SULZER'S ATTEMPT TO AWOKE COURTS

Refuses to Submit Question of Authority to Arbitration, Saying It Is Not Within His Power.

PURPOSES TO PERFORM
TIES OF GOVERNOR

Mrs. Sulzer Is So Dangerously Ill That Her Physician Is Hurriedly Summoned to Her Bedside.

Albany, N. Y., August 15.—Martin H. Glynn checkmated tonight the movement of William Sulzer to invoke the aid of the courts in the question as to which of the two is the present lawful chief executive of the state of New York.

Replying to a formal proposal by the impeached executive to submit the issue to adjudication of an agreed statement of facts, Mr. Glynn declared it was beyond his power to "barter away any of the functions attaching to the office in which I am placed by your impeachment."

"Any attempt on my part to do so," he said, "to stipulate a method by which it might be done, would properly place me in the position you now occupy—that of being impeached for malfeasance in office."

To act as Governor, Mr. Glynn declared, further, that he proposed to perform every function of the office of governor "except insofar as I am prevented by your illegal action or by physical force."

The announcement of the lieutenant governor's policy came late tonight, and followed negotiations between the two men for the past two days. The announcement resulted in a virtual agreement to take the case to the court of appeals.

Mrs. Glynn's letter, addressed to "Honorable William Sulzer, and Honorable Martin H. Glynn," said: "I have your letter of this date referring to the impeachment of the governor. I am glad to see your letter, and I am glad to see that you are so ready to refer to the impeachment of the governor. I am glad to see that you are so ready to refer to the impeachment of the governor."

Macon Man Slays His Wife
And Burns Body in Hotel

George S. Nance Claims Victim Said He Was Crazy and Should Be Put in an Asylum.

HIT WIFE WITH BOTTLE;
POURED OIL ON CLOTHES

Couple Had Arrived at Hamlet, N. C., Friday and Took Rooms for Day—Nance in Jail at Rockingham.

Hamlet, N. C., August 15.—In the middle of the floor of a room in which the furniture was blazing, the body of Mrs. George S. Nance, registered at the local hotel here as being from Macon, Ga., was found today, with her skull fractured in several places and the clothing burned off, while beside it lay an empty beer bottle, the weapon with which her husband is charged with causing her death.

Her husband, who came with her to the hotel this morning, was arrested within three doors of the room on the same floor, and told the chief of police how he killed his wife.

Nance is reported as saying that his wife told him that she was going to leave him out in an asylum, that he was crazy, and had been for years, that she was now as crazy as he was, and intended to stop at nothing. There she said him by the throat, says Nance, and choked him.

When he freed himself and with the beer bottle fractured her skull, and, seeing she was dead, poured kerosene on her clothing and the furniture and fired the room.

Other guests of the hotel saw smoke coming from Nance's room, and extinguished the flames and discovered the dead body of the woman.

The man and woman arrived here the night before last, and were in the hotel on going to the local registered hotel, where they were found dead here and go to Norfolk tonight.

Among the effects found in the woman's baggage was a receipt bill from S. H. George & Co., Greenville, S. C., for a dress, and a receipt from S. H. George & Co., Greenville, S. C., for a dress, and a receipt from S. H. George & Co., Greenville, S. C., for a dress.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict that Mrs. Nance came to her death at the hands of her husband, George S. Nance, and ordered him to be held without bond, Chief of Police Braswell immediately hurried to the scene.

In addition to the charge of murder, the charge of arson was made against Nance, an effort has been made by the authorities to locate relatives of the deceased and the police.

What is going to be done? No one knows. It is said that Nance is a man of means, and that he is a man of means.

Illinois Congressman Received $7,500 From Washington Pawnbrokers for Opposing Bill, Declares McMichael.

SAYS M'DERMOTT ASKED HIM TO TAKE THE BLAME

Representative Offered to Pay Him $100 a Month if He Were Caught and "Sent Down the River."

Washington, August 15.—In a dramatic statement, I. H. McMichael, chairman of the committee on the house judiciary investigating committee, a sweeping charge of corruption against Representative James E. McMichael, of Illinois, for years his superior, with intense expressions of indignation, at times shaking the committee and spectators with outbursts of profanity and slang.

The witness declared that for years he had exerted every effort to bring McMichael down, and that he had been helped him in his campaign. Now, he said, McMichael had "thrown him down," and he felt he must tell the truth.

In addition to the charges already made, McMichael swore that the witness had received $7,500 out of a fund of $10,000 raised by the pawnbrokers of Washington to oppose a bill passed in the last congress by the house of representatives in the district of Columbia.

McMichael also declared that he had been offered $100 a month if he were caught and "sent down the river."

TRAIN WAITS WHILE MAN
RETREIVES FALSE TEETH

Camden, N. J., August 15.—The Camden station last night after Herbert MacCroon had leaped from the train and hurried back along the tracks, Conductor Van Meter, puzzled by the strange flight of his passenger, halted the train and held it until MacCroon returned.

"I'm glad I got 'em," wheezed MacCroon as he pulled himself into the vestibule.

"Got what?" anxiously asked the conductor.

"My teeth," replied MacCroon. "I needed just before we got to Delanco and they hopped right out of my mouth and fell by the track."

MacCroon told him, "You're willing to pay me $100 a month to go to jail for you, but you won't pay me for wages you honestly owe me. I've got to show for six years' work but I won't do this for you."

Helped McMichael's Campaign. Apparently struggling to control himself, McMichael told the committee of furnishing $1 to take McMichael to Chicago to aid McMichael in the 1912 campaign.

"Where did you get that money?" asked Representative Garrett.

"My mother had just died," said McMichael, "and I was executor for my mother's will. The money was in a bank here in the name of the estate and I gave McMichael check for it."

McMichael told of length of making trips to various pawnbrokers in Washington to secure money either for McMichael or himself.

SWEAR CONLEY CALLED
FRANK AN INNOCENT MAN

Witness After Witness Declare That They Never Saw Women in Office of Superintendent—The State Brings Girl Back From Home of Good Shepherd in Cincinnati to Give Evidence Against Prisoner—Her Testimony Is Kept a Secret.

The defense played one of its strong cards Friday when, at the head of the day's session, Mrs. Rae Frank was placed on the stand to identify a letter which Leo M. Frank had written to his uncle, M. Frank, on Memorial day, and which was read in her presence at the Hotel McAlpin, New York, Monday following the murder.

The letter was one of some length and contained a profane remark which Frank had requested his nephew to send him.

The time element, which is playing an important part in the trial, was made more important by this letter. The defense will attempt to show that the letter could not have been written had Frank been guilty of the murder, or had he been laboring under stress of excitement.

Mrs. Frank was perfectly composed while on the stand and answered the questions of Luther Roser in a clear, distinct voice.

At the conclusion of Friday's session the end was not yet in sight, and no one, not even the attorneys in the case, could predict with any degree of certainty when argument would begin.

The sensation of Friday, had no direct connection with the court proceedings. It was the fact that Dolly Howell, a 16-year-old girl, formerly of Atlanta, but who for some time has been an inmate of the Home of the Good Shepherd in Cincinnati, had been brought back to Atlanta in charge of Mrs. Mary Bonfield, matron of the police station, to give testimony against Frank.

On the way back to Atlanta Mrs. Bonfield did not discuss the Frank case with the Howell girl, and she does not know what evidence she will give.

WILSON'S MESSAGE GIVEN TO HUERTA ON THURSDAY

Washington, August 15.—The Huerta government has been in the possession of the message of President Wilson to President Huerta, which was given to the president of the United States by the Mexican minister of foreign affairs, adding that they had been cordial in character.

While neither of the principals will admit the fact, information has been obtained that the object of Mr. Lind's visit to Señor Cambos late last night was to deliver President Wilson's message to the Huerta government.

As an indication of the determination of Mr. Lind to do his duty, he today refused to grant an interview to a group of well-known politicians, including a number of members of the chamber of deputies. The group he refused to grant an interview to, he said, was not known to him.

What the result of publishing these views will be, officials here do not know. The Huerta government advances that the Huerta government will not be disturbed by the publication of these views.

The government remains silent regarding the entire matter, but Mr. Lind is expected to return to Mexico City.

*Leo Frank Innocent, Said Conley,
According to a Girl Operator*

Mrs. Doris Small, machine operator for the pencil factory, was the last witness of the afternoon session.

"How long has he been working with the factory?" she was asked by "Q."

"For five years," she replied.

"Did you know Philip Phagan?"

"Only when I saw her," she said.

"Did you see him on the morning of July 1, saw him the week after the murder you see him with newspapers?"

"Yes, he borrowed money from me to go to the bank with."

"Did he look like he was reading the paper?"

"He was reading them."

"Did he look like a murderer?"

"I said Frank was innocent."

All butted up plumb to the collar.

"Did he say to you that Frank was innocent?"

"Yes, he said Mr. Frank was as innocent as the babe in the wood."

"Now how have you known Frank?"

"He was my character, good or bad."

"Good—I never met a more thorough character."

"Were you drinking in Frank's office?"

"I didn't eat."

"Do you know Jim Conley's character?"

"No."

"What is it, good or bad?"

"I don't know."

Cross-examination by Dorsey.

Get Ralsey Four Months Ago.

"When did you get your new car?"

"Four months ago, about."

"Did you see Frank Phagan the fourth time on Tuesday after the tragedy?"

"Yes, he was coming down the aisle with Miss Carson."

"Did you see him?"

"Yes, he was sitting over by the door."

"When did you last talk with the counsel for Frank about this matter?"

"I don't remember, but I saw a blank on the subject."

"Did you ask questions from Solicitor Dorsey, stated that she was sure she had seen him with the supposed blood spots out of pure curiosity?"

"Yes, I saw one and only one time."

Dorsey.

"Did you see they had been shipped up there?"

"There was something white, like the white of a shirt, on the wall."

"Did Mrs. Carson go with you to the place where to look at the blood spots?"

"I saw said Dorsey."

"Did she want with you?"

"Positive."

"To Mr. Reaser and Mr. Arnold."
"Can you explain why you didn't tell me of your suspicion to Frank when you saw he had Pinkerton detectives at work on the case?"
"I just didn't think it best."
"Have you ever known of Frank being accused of immorality?"
"No."
"Did you know Mary Phagan?"
"Yes."
"Ever see Frank go over and call her off to one side?"
"No."
"Ever see Frank scuffling with her?"
"No."
"Ever hear of Frank slapping girls?"
"No."

EDWARDS OFFERS BILL FOR MILITARY HIGHWAY

Adairville, Ga., August 15.—(Special).—Hamp Jones fell dead at the home of Mr. Chambers, a relative near Adairville this morning from unknown cause. He lived near Chocoma and was here boarding, attending a singing school.

He was as well as usual this morning and ate a hearty breakfast. He was later found by the little son of Mr. Chambers.

"Who have you talked with since dinner," he was asked by the solicitor at the executive mansion tonight. Mr. Glavin motored to his country residence tonight after a consultation with his counsel.

Governor Sulzer left the executive chamber early, and after a short spin in an automobile returned to the man-locked tight while guards paced up and down both within and without the corridor. It was said the guards would continue their vigilance throughout the night.

The condition of Mrs. Sulzer tonight recapitulated the real of Dr. Robert Abrahamson from New York. No official bulletin was forthcoming tonight from the executive mansion concerning Mrs. Sulzer, but after a few minutes' waiting, Dr. Abrahamson said he had learned of the patient's condition over the telephone. He stated that she was "still in a precarious condition" with a temperature of 102 and pulse 112. He is desirous at times of increasing temperature and maintaining a pulse of 100.

ended, imports of manufacturers' materials, and exports of manufactured goods and agricultural products exceeded the former high record of year 1912.

Imports of raw materials increased by $77,000,000 and those of partly manufactured goods, increased by $55,900,000, while exports of products of mills and mines jumped $11,000,000.

Cotton, silk, flax, tobacco, hides, lumber, copper, pig iron, and chemicals used in manufacturing all show increases in the quantity imported up to June 30, 1913, as compared to last year.

In the other principal manufacturing materials such as wool, rubber, tin, and iron ore, the figures differ but little for 1913 as compared to 1912.

Imports for the fiscal year aggregated $1,812,578,234 as compared with $1,653,264,934 for 1912. Exports amounted to $2,453,843,925 as against $2,344,322,440 for the previous fiscal year.

These figures show a general activity in business. Whether they would have been any greater but for the existing tariff chances is purely a speculative question.

The disturbance to business generally charged to the Wilson-Gorman tariff bill practically is the first cry of any kind.

Conditions are fundamentally sound and there is no cause for alarm. With a satisfactory currency measure the country will weather any storm the tariff may produce.

Criticism of this feature of the tariff bill is founded on the democratic doctrine of a tariff for revenue. Since it has been proven that the sugar refiners will also benefit, and not the public, the criticism seems well grounded.

DAYTON'S NEW CHARTER.

On August 12, the citizens of Dayton followed the example set by Galveston after its catastrophe and adopted a decidedly new type of municipal government.

The new charter provides for the short, efficient, and businesslike administration of a city manager, a city manager, a legislative commission, and is said to be the most advanced charter ever adopted by an American city.

Just From Georgia

By FRANK L. STANTON

In the Old Dodge Picnic Park, Ga. (From The Dodge News, Marietta, Ind. Editor of the Springbrook Park Picnic, Ind. of the Company's Employees.)

I. We folks that hear the whistle almost at break of day.

When the restful sleep is dreamlike in the night, we're fun enough, I tell you, to keep us in prime.

An' life is worth the livin' in the factory picnic time!

II. Don't see us at the beach, see us in bathin suits, high.

The breakers' sea can't crash on us, they can't break us, they can't break us.

But when the August sun bakes: 'I've got the shivers gone, we have our vacation in the Indian woods.

III. An' when that reminds me of Springbrook Park, the place.

Where a good old fellow smiled in the sweetest face.

And a good old fellow smiled in the sweetest face.

IV. Talk about "good times"—Dodge had 'em! Dodge had 'em!

Free music, free fun, seemed a fellow's "good times."

Warn us, but folks in all the world, happiness knows no bound, joy, joy, joy.

V. The tables piled with plenty high prices, the tables piled with plenty high prices.

An' for our day, we're not so bad, we're not so bad, we're not so bad.

VI. Pick ticks! Such scraps, an' shady nooks, Where a good old fellow smiled in the sweetest face.

When a good old fellow smiled in the sweetest face.

VII. "Twas Dodge's 'roundabout' for happiness, such fun, such fun, such fun.

How the hours passed in music, an' how the hours passed in music.

VIII. When the hours passed in music, an' how the hours passed in music.

"A FINE LOOKING LOT."

SAID PITTSBURG JUDGE

Editorial Constitution: I notice in the newspaper a recent Associated Press dispatch giving an account of the denunciation by Judge Mansfield, of Pittsburg, of the work of an organization known as the "Industrial Workers of the World."

"You are a fine looking lot," said the judge in denouncing the prosaics. "To be denouncing American workmen."

Among those sentenced for indicting right was a fellow named Victor Brown, F. Koehn, Louis Mikolich, Michael Duro, Cecilia Lepichuk and Mathilda Rostovitch.

On several occasions I have noted editorial dealing with the lawlessness of the members of this particular organization, and in every instance I have been in particular that the participants in these disturbances were composed of foreigners altogether.

Now, this organization and others and the class of foreigners of which compose the membership of these different organizations are a danger to the United States.

The United States government has the right to take any action it deems proper to protect the United States from the influence of the most undesirable class of people from Europe, especially from Russia and Poland, who are bent on war and on the destruction of the United States.

ASKS FEDERAL LAW FOR UNIFORM BALE

Harvie Jordan Urges Legislation to Reform Handling of Cotton Before Commerce Committee of the House.

By John Corrigan, Jr.
Washington, August 15.—(Special.)—Congress should pass a law, if it has the power, providing for a uniform standard bale of cotton, preventing a method of sampling and baling and fixing the tare, since the farmers and ginners will not voluntarily by agreement effect these reforms.

Harvie Jordan, of Georgia, made this statement in concluding an argument before the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce today in the hearing on proposed uniform cotton bales. He said that the cotton bales now in use are of various sizes and weights, and that this causes a great deal of trouble in the handling of the cotton.

Representative Jordan, of Georgia, chairman of the committee, has issued a general invitation to farmers and ginners to appear before the committee and give their views as to how to effect this reform. Representatives of the steamship companies, railroads and bankers have already been heard.

Open to Suggestions.—"If any federal legislation is necessary, the committee is ready to consider it," Representative Jordan said in making an invitation to other cotton farmers to appear. Mr. Jordan expressed his deliberate judgment, following a careful study of the world, that uniform cotton bales would be a great benefit to the cotton industry.

Cotton Production Abroad.—"The British government is now undertaking a great deal of work similar to that of our own department of agriculture to promote the cultivation of cotton in British India, Egypt and India."

"Russia is producing every year one million bales of cotton. China is producing an amount, almost, enough to supply her own mill. Egypt is producing 1,500,000 bales, and India, 5,000,000 bales."

Mr. Jordan recommended that ginners should be paid for the cotton they gin. He said that the ginners should be paid for the cotton they gin, and that the cotton should be baled in a uniform manner.

Cotton should be baled at the gin, he insisted, and there should be a uniform weight and size for the actual amount of cotton and its original weight should be stamped on the bale in ink. If there was fraud, it would be the fault of the gin, he said, and the bale would be properly stamped.

FAMILY OF ANDREW J. GRUBB DENY HE COMMITTED SUICIDE

ANDREW J. GRUBB.

Who died after taking strychnine, while members of his family were attending funeral of his favorite sister, Mrs. Sophia Smith.

The entire family of Andrew J. Grubb, prominent contractor and builder of North Georgia, who died at his home 365 Lakeland avenue, Thursday morning at 11 o'clock from the effects of strychnine poisoning, most emphatically deny that Mr. Grubb intended to commit suicide.

Mr. Grubb, who had been suffering for some time with an incurable affection of the heart, was alone in the house with the exception of his 15-year-old son, Harvey, when his death occurred. The remainder of the family were in attendance at the funeral of Mrs. Sophia Smith, favorite sister of Mr. Grubb, who died Thursday morning.

Mr. Grubb went out of the house Thursday morning at 10 o'clock for the funeral of his sister.

On the day before the announcement of the death of Mr. Grubb, the completion of negotiations for a loan of $100,000 to the school teachers after their nearly eight months' strike.

The announcement of the loan was duly chronicled, but in the rush made to the close of the session the details as given in Governor Sloan's message have not been fully reported.

The governor's message reads as follows: "The Department, August 15, 1913. To the General Assembly. I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your resolution of August 15, 1913, in accordance with which the state of Georgia is authorized to borrow $100,000 at 3 per cent interest."

The banks making these loans will be authorized to borrow the money in the name of the state, and to issue bonds for the purpose, and their action, during a severe depression, and their willingness to suffer financial loss for the sake of the state, is a tribute to the credit of the state of Georgia.

TO PAY TEACHERS EARLY NEXT WEEK

MRS. SOPHIA SMITH.

With $475,000 in the State Treasury, They Will Be the First Beneficiaries of New Tax Law.

Governor Sloan on yesterday signed on behalf of the state the notes for the $475,000, which are Atlanta national banks have agreed to loan, and the money has been turned into the state treasury.

Early next week, probably on Monday, this money will be distributed to the various county boards of education to be used in paying the school teachers.

According to the governor, this money is the first fruits of the reorganization of the state's finances by the new tax law, which will be the first to be paid to the teachers.

With this money and with the corporation taxes coming in next month, the state ought to have a better financial condition than it has at present.

The family of Mr. Grubb, prominent contractor and builder of North Georgia, who died at his home 365 Lakeland avenue, Thursday morning at 11 o'clock from the effects of strychnine poisoning, most emphatically deny that Mr. Grubb intended to commit suicide.

Mr. Grubb, who had been suffering for some time with an incurable affection of the heart, was alone in the house with the exception of his 15-year-old son, Harvey, when his death occurred. The remainder of the family were in attendance at the funeral of Mrs. Sophia Smith, favorite sister of Mr. Grubb, who died Thursday morning.

Mr. Grubb went out of the house Thursday morning at 10 o'clock for the funeral of his sister.

On the day before the announcement of the death of Mr. Grubb, the completion of negotiations for a loan of $100,000 to the school teachers after their nearly eight months' strike.

The announcement of the loan was duly chronicled, but in the rush made to the close of the session the details as given in Governor Sloan's message have not been fully reported.

The governor's message reads as follows: "The Department, August 15, 1913. To the General Assembly. I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your resolution of August 15, 1913, in accordance with which the state of Georgia is authorized to borrow $100,000 at 3 per cent interest."

The banks making these loans will be authorized to borrow the money in the name of the state, and to issue bonds for the purpose, and their action, during a severe depression, and their willingness to suffer financial loss for the sake of the state, is a tribute to the credit of the state of Georgia.

What Governor Has the Right to Honor Georgia Requisition Papers?

Whether Governor Sulzer, of New York, recently impeached by the New York house of representatives, and now facing trial before the state senate for misappropriation of campaign funds, has the power to honor requisition papers issued by the governor of Georgia for the release of John Lovett, a former state senator, who is now in the custody of the New York state prison, is a question that is now being raised in the New York legislature.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

All the News of Real Estate and Building.

OWING to an enormous increase in business, the L. P. Butterfield Realty company has been forced to make additional changes in the personnel of their office and sales force. The record of this company has been one of phenomenal growth, and despite the rather dull market which has been a step in a number of lines, the Butterfield agency has steadily forced on.

This firm announced yesterday that Hugh L. Lacey had been advanced from the position of sales manager to general manager, and that Eugene P. McElroy had been made sales manager over subdivisions and Trigg A. Gamm manager of the city area department.

With this new arrangement the Butterfield firm will be prepared to continue their successful career as a leading Atlanta realty firm. Mr. Lacey is a man who has a direct experience in the realty field, and has a number of friends in the city who are well known in the business of the Butterfield agency.

Mr. Lacey has had experience as a salesman covering the city of Atlanta, and as one of his friends expressed it, "knows every street and street in Atlanta." He made the first sale in the history of the Butterfield agency.

Mr. McElroy has had extensive experience as a salesman in the city of Atlanta, and has made this one of the most popular in the city.

Convinced that the work on the street from the junction of Peachtree and the city, the Butterfield agency has been able to secure a number of blocks in the city which will be sold at a profit. The agency has been able to secure a number of blocks in the city which will be sold at a profit.

REVIEW OF THE MARKET

New York, August 15.—Cotton deteriorated ports from the southwest failed to stimulate general support in the cotton market during past week, and while somewhat muddied sentiment, as expressed in local circles, remains a bearish average, owing to the reported gratification of spinners, unfavorable trade advice, and the approaching new crop moment. Continued dry weather in Texas and Iowa and a firm old crop situation have eased offerings, however, and although prices

A private report, published today, contains advice of deterioration in the southeast, with the average condition of the crop T&E, say 81.4 two weeks ago, and combined with crop drought, as well as an apprehension that a short harvest had been accumulated, causing sharp rally during today's trading. There is no let in wheat demand or bull support so adverse, then covering of shorus, however it appears that, in spite of adverse weather the western belt and comparatively low cost the average operator is still optimistic regarding supplies owing to expectations of a very crop short of the river.

Beyond this and entirely aside from the item of ultimate crop and requirements for season, bearish views are still based on a notion that mills will buy very slowly systems owing to unsettled trade conditions, conservative attitude in financial circles, various political or legislative uncertainties home and abroad. Under such conditions, the weight of the early movement is looked upon almost certain source of depression in the future, while more bullishly disposed men argue that between the short interest this view has probably created, and the tendency to wall for a decline on which

TRADE REVIEWED BY

New York, August 15.—Pius's review to you will say that current distribution of standard securities is normal volume, that the market is normal volume, the fall and winter business. Conservatism being exaggerated somewhat by the damage done, yet in a broad sense good conditions still prevailing and, with remunerative prices prevailing, another prosperous year is seen.

Domestic monetary considerations have been a matter of less concern and political desirability in Europe also make for an easier view there. Changes in strictly mercantile industrial conditions are of a mixed character.

COTTON THE PAST WEEK
REVIEW OF THE MARKET

New York, August 15.—Cotton quotations from the southwest failed to stimulate support in the cotton market during the past week, and the market was characterized by a general lack of interest. The market sentiment, as expressed in local circles, was of a bearish aspect, owing to the reports praticulture of spinners, unfavorable for trade advance, and the approaching new crop in Texas. Continued dry weather in Texas and rains and a firm old crop situation have new cotton offering less interest. Although prices have been firm, the crop has been new, low ground on Thursday. Spinners displaced more nervousness than actual need with weathering shorts showing a disposition to take comparatively small profits.

A private report, published today, confirms advance in deterioration in the southeast, more than in the rest of the crop. The 51.8 two weeks ago, and combined with continued drought, as well as an apprehension that a short interval had been accumulated, caused sharp rally during today's trading. There is

Second this, and entirely aside from the notion of ultimate crop and requirements for seasons, harsher views are still based on a vision that mills will buy very slowly autumn, owing to unsettled trade conditions, conservative attitudes in financial circles, various political or legislative uncertainties, and the like abroad. Under such conditions, however, the early movement is looked upon an almost certain source of depression in the sector, while more bullishly disposed view the gap that between the short interest the view has probably created, and the government to wait for a decline on which they for actual needs, speculation may prove enough to provide a ready outlet for so-called "sterile" cotton that actually put on the market during the height of the price boom.

New York, August 15.—Guns's review to New York says that current distribution of phosphate is not normal volume, that the phosphate is normal volume, the fall and winter business. Conservation have anticipated somewhat by the damage crop, yet in a broad sense crop conditions still promise and, with remunerative prospecting, another prosperous year is assured. The movement of agricultural products market contributes liberally to transport volume, while the export of grain and some times add materially to credit by ships.

Palmer this week numbered 272 in the United States, against 288 last year and 38 in 1914 compared with 35 a year ago.
